

Indigenous Child & Family Services Directors

Our Children Our Way Society

June 24, 2026

Dear partner,

On behalf of the Loving Justice Steering Committee, we are pleased to invite you to partner with us as a sponsor of the 3rd Annual Loving Justice Conference, taking place at the BMO Centre in Calgary, Alberta on September 13-15th, 2026.

This year's conference theme, Loving Justice: Restoring our Laws, Teachings and Ways of Life, will bring together Indigenous leaders, Elders, youth, legal advocates, community practitioners, Nations, and organizations from across the country to advance dialogue and action grounded in Indigenous laws, governance, and systems of care for children and families.

The Loving Justice Conference creates space for courageous conversations, shared learning, and collective movement toward restoring Indigenous-led approaches that centre children, youth, families, culture, and community wellbeing. Participants will engage in discussions focused on jurisdiction, Indigenous legal traditions, prevention and wellness, youth voice, and strengthening pathways forward for future generations.

In addition to the conference, we are honoured to host the 1st Annual Loving Justice Gala on the evening of September 15, 2026, bringing together Indigenous leaders, partners, sponsors, and distinguished guests from across Canada for an evening of celebration, recognition, and relationship-building. We invite your organization to consider sponsoring the Loving Justice Conference, the Loving Justice Gala, or both events as a valued partner in supporting Indigenous children, families, communities, and Nation-building initiatives.

As a sponsor, your organization will play an important role in supporting meaningful national dialogue and collaboration while demonstrating a commitment to reconciliation, Indigenous self-determination, and the wellbeing of Indigenous children and families.

We anticipate welcoming hundreds of attendees from across Canada, including leadership from Nations, community organizations, governments, frontline practitioners, youth representatives, and advocates committed to transformative systems change.

We would be humbled to have your support as a sponsor of this important gathering. Sponsorship opportunities and recognition levels are enclosed for your consideration.

Thank you for considering this opportunity to stand alongside us in restoring our laws, teachings, and ways of life.

The partnership between Piikani Child and Family Services and Our Children Our Way Society reflects a shared commitment to gather in a good way — guided by love, justice, and responsibility to children, families, and future generations. Rooted in the conference theme, “Our Laws, Our Teachings, Our Ways of Life,” the Loving Justice Conference is not only an event, but a living expression of Indigenous laws, relationships, and collective care carried forward through this work. Together, both organizations invite you to continue to strengthen our pathways of healing, advocacy, and community wellness grounded in culture, kinship, and the teachings of our Nations, while creating space for meaningful dialogue, learning, and collective action in support of Indigenous children and families.

During ceremony, crests and ancestral beings are honoured through storytelling, song, and dance. These symbols are also carried in traditional items such as coppers, bowls, spoons, baskets, hats, and other cultural belongings. Our sponsorship levels reflect these teachings, fostering meaningful connections that spark collaboration and strengthen relationships.
